important for re work

- To work with people that use more of their left side of their brain
- To get praise when I have done something well
- To be given the bigger picture and show me where I fit in
- Healthy pressure without the overload
- Remind me if I have not completed something on time
- Support to complete important but boring things
- To tell me if I have spilt something wrong
- Don't let me take on too many things. Just because I have fabulous ideas do not make the assumption I want to do them
